

Remote Supports for Independent Living

August 19, 2021 9am-2:15pm

CEU Quiz

1. Only a narrow group of individuals are a good fit for Remote Supports (T/F)
2. Remote Supports can be an excellent tool for:
  - a. Giving a person the confidence that they can be more independent.
  - b. Showing a support team that a person can be more independent.
  - c. Reducing a person's dependency for direct support.
  - d. All of the above
3. Remote Supports are a form of Assistive Technology? T/F
4. Indiana was the first state in the US to fund/regulate Remote Supports through a HCBS Waiver? T/F
5. The individual's support team should create a Remote Support Plan that outlines the person's abilities, goals, and backup responders? T/F

6. The Remote Support devices in the person's home should be designed based on the person's needs, preferences, abilities, and routines? T/F
7. Remote Supports is a Medicaid waiver service that is available on both the Family Supports Waiver and the Community Integration and Habilitation Waiver T/F
8. Remote supports are only available to adults on the Family Supports Waiver and Community Integration and Habilitation Waiver T/F
9. More than half of states reported adoption of remote support during a 2019-2020 survey T/F
10. A majority of focus group participants endorsed safety when asked what was liked about remote support T/F

